About CSN

The Clinical SN is a mobile application that connects patients with healthcare providers, caregivers, and family members. It offers a way to keep their health and current personal well-being information in one place and share it with their desired private care network.

This connection is further propelled for response and service coordination by combining interoperability aspects and Application Programming Interfaces (API) with multiple source systems and the patient's healthcare plan information.

The Clinical SN Technology App creates:

- A private online network.
- Assist in the way individuals manage and communicate their health information.
- Make better healthcare decisions.
- Reminders that promote a healthier lifestyle.
- One digital solution for all healthcare information.
- Constant clinical/professional support combining C4 services.
